An Invitation to join the SCIAI

Membership and your participation gives you an opportunity to meet with others who are interested in the Forensic Studies. Crime Scene investigators, Investigators, students, and forensic professionals currently make up our membership. Members have the opportunity to exchange information and keep abreast of the latest developments and techniques being used today to solve crimes.

Your agency will benefit from your knowledge that you will take back and be able to assist in their efforts in the detection and apprehension of criminals. Your agency will be in a position of knowing that you are making efforts to increase your level of professionalism.

Never in the history of criminal justice has the expert witness been more scrutinized by the courts. Your membership gives you an opportunity to present yourself as continuing to seek out information and maintain the highest level of professional development.

Please accept our invitation to join with fellow law enforcement officials, forensic professionals, and students interested in law enforcement and the forensic field of study in membership in the SCIAI.
